

Pregnancy's last-minute holiday gift guide

December 14, 2016 by Emme Lukasik

Unique and useful last-minute gift ideas for every new mom and little one on your holiday list

Our holiday gift to you: a full gift-giving guide brimming with thoughtfully selected and impeccably crafted items, curated for the new family on your list. From vintage-inspired toys to sweet nursery decor, we have a host of options just waiting to be slipped beneath your tree.

Many of the Pregnancy Magazine picks are brought to you by independently owned companies with moms just like you at the helm. Many of the options below are affordable (with some priced as low as $7!) and lean heavily toward being sustainably sourced and friendly to the earth. All of the items you'll find below have been tested first-hand and loved by the Pregnancy editors.

1. SoundBub Bluetooth Speaker $59

9. Wooden Clacker Rattle $11.99

8. Wooden Teether $19

2. Elephant Booties $25

7. Rookie Humans Crib Sheet $34

4. Hip Peas Skin Care $11.95 +

3. Muslin Swaddle Blanket $38

5. Organic PJs $34

6. Nursery Print $25 +

Gifts for the newborn

1. The SoundBub is a bluetooth portable speaker with a built-in stand that doubles as a handle. Select one setting to play soothing sounds, from a gentle rain to rolling waves to simple white noise. A second setting allows you to connect the speaker to any bluetooth-enabled device, allowing you to play your own music for your little one. Lastly, using an accompanying app, the SoundBub lets mom and dad record soothing voice messages to play for baby. The speaker is rechargeable, padded, and simple to use.
2. These elephant booties are as cute as they are cozy. Handcrafted from felted wool, these baby shoes are truly one-of-a-kind and make a memorable gift for the newborn baby who has everything.
3. The organic muslin swaddle blankets from Coyuchi are generously sized, beautifully designed, and more substantial than any other on the market. Pick up a set of 3 in coordinating designs for the perfect gift for the newborn who has style-conscious parents.
4. The Hip Peas hair and skincare line smells intoxicating without being overwhelming, and is luxuriously moisturizing. Handpick your products, from shampoo to curl tame  ore, for a sweet-smelling gift for the smallest person on your holiday list. Each Hip Peas item is eco-friendly and non-toxic. What's more, 10 percent of the company's profits are donated to worthy charities.
5. There is nothing sweeter than a newborn baby snuggled up in his or her pajamas. Make that scene ten times cozier with these organic pajamas from Finn + Emma. Each of the company's PJ sets is dreamily soft and designed with a subtle pattern that can easily work for either gender.
6. Visit photographer Sharon Montrose's online print shop for the sweetest portraits of baby animals. Each print is available in multiple sizes and some options are even available for professional framing.
7. This delightfully whimsical crib sheet comes packaged for gift-giving. Slip a bow on it and you're ready for your holiday gift exchange. Rookie Humans is a new company which has partnered with talented artists to share their depictions of dreamland. You'll find four of these imaginative settings printed on super-soft sateen. Each design is crafted as a backdrop for a photo, allowing a new mom or dad to snap away while baby snoozes.
